Bighorn Sheep Migrate!

We know in Salmo when Spring is truly here, because the Bighorn sheep migrate on to green pastures. As the snow backs up the mountains and the greenery climbs into its place, the sheep follow their ancient instincts and climb with the greenery. In short order, (June-ish,) the new lambs will arrive and the life cycle continues. Nelson District Rod & Gun and Trail Wildlife Clubs have been providing winter food supplement and salt for this herd of sheep for longer than most people's careers. One consistent (maybe persistent) volunteer is Jack Floyd, shown here in Apr 2014 as the last of the sheep receive the last of the hay for the season. These remaining sheep, ewes & last-year lambs are showing the season's clothing change.

The rams have already departed as a bachelor herd. See pix. The whole herd seems to have made it through the winter very intact, with only one of eight lambs disappearing for unknown reasons. No known vehicle / sheep collisions occurred this year, making us very pleased.
