

Mickey McEwen Hall Security Upgrade

For anyone with a security code for the Mickey McEwen Hall (Rod & Gun Club), you will notice the new annunciator panels that are at both entrances to the building. Red lights indicate the zone is armed; green lights indicate the zone is disarmed.

Access to the individual zones has not been changed. Whatever your code could arm/disarm before, is the same now. The annunciator panels indicate the status of the individual zones. This should help reduce the number of alarm soundings.

When first entering the panel will show all zones armed, as indicated by the red lights in the left picture. Enter your code and the annunciator panel will show which zones have been disarmed. If your code provides access to all zones, they all will be disarmed, as indicated in the right-hand picture.

If your code does not provide access to all zones, the ones that remain armed will continue to show the red “armed” light, as shown in the lower pictures, when your code is activated. An example is all renters codes do not provide access to the Range, so renters will see the lower right picture whenever they disarm the building.

If you enter the building and there are any green lights showing, it is a strong indication someone else is in the building or on the grounds. Please say hello to whoever you are sharing the building with and arrange who will arm the system when leaving.
